

$500 EXEMPTION FOR HOME OWNERS

Taylor Explains How to Get Homestead Allowance on Assessments.

F. A. Taylor, supervisor of assessment for Rock county, this week sent out a letter of instruction to the assessors of Rock county with particular attention to the $500 exemption of homesteads, as provided for under the new law to be administered in the 1924 assessment.

All assessors of Rock county have been called for a conference to be held in the court house Monday.

The new homestead feature and other tax matters will be discussed. An effort has been made during recent years to make the tax assessments of Rock county more uniform. Last year there was a reduction in the values on agricultural properties, including both land and stock. There have been few valid sales of farm property in the county during the last year and no great number of cash transactions for urban property.

The explanation of the new law is as follows:

Exemption of Homestead.

Subsection 29A of Section 70.11 (1922 Statutes) exempts:

"All buildings and improvements upon any parcel of land owned and used as a homestead as defined in Section 2383 of the statutes not exceeding $500 of the value of such buildings and improvements, if the owner of the homestead has in effect a mortgage on the property on or before the first day of July of the year in which the assessment is made, claiming exemption under the provisions of this subsection."

Other provisions of this act prescribing the manner in which the law shall be carried out in the assessment and tax rolls will be found in Sections 70.12, 70.13 and 70.16.

The first provision of this law calling for attention is that requiring an affidavit claiming exemption to be filed with the assessor during the assessment season between the first day of May and the first day of July in each year. This provision is necessary to enable the assessor to determine whether the exemption can be allowed without it.

While the letter of the statute contains the exemption, it also refers to Section 2383, relating to exemption from debts. This latter section declares that the term "homestead" shall extend to land not exceeding 40 acres in rural areas and one-quarter of an acre in cities and villages owned by husband and wife, or by a single person, and to the interest therein of a tenant in common or two or more tenants in common, and to any estate in land held by a single person by lease, contract or otherwise."

Under the language of this statute and the construction given it by the courts, it is not believed that absolute ownership is essential. The right of exemption applies:

1. To the actual owner occupying the premises as a homestead.

2. To the purchaser under a land contract occupying the premises as a homestead.

3. To the fee owner of real estate subject to a mortgage occupying the premises as a homestead.

4. To one or two joint tenants or tenants in common actually occupying the premises as a homestead, and to each of two joint tenants or tenants in common if both actually occupy the premises as a homestead.

5. To the owner of a duplex or apartment house or building used for business purposes occupying a portion thereof as a homestead.

6. To two or more co-owners of such property each occupying a portion of apartment thereof as a homestead.

7. Members of the same family living together as such, are entitled to only one exemption, even when each of them owns an interest in the premises occupied as a homestead.

8. The exemption applies to the assessment of the building and improvements on the homestead only to the extent of $500, and not to the land.

9. Actual use and occupancy of the premises as a homestead in all cases is essential, except where the owner is temporarily absent from sickness or other urgent cause, in which case there must be fixed intention to return, as soon as the cause of absence is removed.

10. The assessor should separately assess the homesteaded property according to plat and government description and fix the value of the improvements at their selling price on the same basis as other property. He has no concern with the exemption, except to insert the letter "H" after the description constituting the homestead in the column indicated on the assessment roll. (Sec. 70.12.)

At the receipt of the assessment roll, the clerk is required to deduct the assessed value of the homestead exemption not exceeding $500 in value. In no event can he deduct more than the assessed value of the homestead improvements even if the assessment be less than $500. In making the deduction of the exemption, the assessor should deduct all homestead exemptions allowed under the act. (Sec. 70.13.)

Power to Suspend Tax Payers.

Assessors will not suspend tax payers to the delinquent. It is the duty of the assessor to prepare a list of delinquents and have it acknowledged before a person authorized to perform such services, which includes town, village and city clerks, justices of the peace and notary public.

Assessors will proceed with their work in the same orderly way as heretofore, assessing all property at its market value as prescribed by statute and indicate on their rolls such parcels of land that constitute a homestead. They will not, however, mark the letter "H" opposite the description until the necessary affidavit is filed.

In this way, they can proceed with their work, regardless of whether the affidavit is filed or not.

No Change in Methods.

There has been no change in the law as to the method of valuation, consequently there can be no excuse for the homesteaded land being assessed at a higher value than the land it is placed on, or before the first day of July of the year in which the assessment is made, claiming exemption under the provisions of this subsection."

HEAD OFFICES OF LUMBER CO. HERE

Concern Moves Its Operating Headquarters From Madison to Janesville.

Moving to Janesville from Madison of the main offices of the Litchfield & Dixon Lumber company, operating and controlling 25 lumber mills in Wisconsin and in Illinois, will be completed within the next four or six weeks, it was learned Friday from A. J. Skinner, Madison, district auditor. The quarters will be in the same building at 621 South River street as now houses the office of Edward Quackenbush, local manager.

The concern has never operated a yard in Madison and the move to Janesville is looked upon as being wise from the standpoint of economy, the yard being among the largest operated by the concern.

Skinner said that a small additional force will be necessary to handle the office work here, but the advantage to Janesville comes in the fact that part of the several million dollars which annually passes through the central office, will probably be handled through local banks, Janesville and Milwaukee banks will be used as depositories, according to Mr. Skinner.

It has not yet been decided what fields of the company will move to Janesville, but it is expected that the general office, Mr. Quackenbush will continue in his present capacity as manager of the local yards. Whatever office help is needed will undoubtedly be recruited from Janesville, it was said.

One of the reasons that the offices have been located in Madison is that all officers make their home in that city, they being Thomas B. Brittingham, president; Joseph M. Hiron, vice-president; Robert H. Dixon, secretary; and T. D. Brittingham, Jr., treasurer.

Truck Wrecked in Crossing Crash; Driver Uninjured

His truck tumbled into by a Chicago & Northwestern locomotive at the Pike Points grade crossing, Thursday night, Claude Montanyo, 211 North Pearl street, escaped practically unhurt, his only injuries being a general shaking up and a slight cut on one thumb. The truck was partially demolished.

The accident happened about 7 p. m. when a Chicago & Northwestern locomotive, No. 1559, in the yards, was backing up and a slight cut on one thumb. The truck was partially demolished.

Montanyo's truck, a Ford, was knocked into and tipped over on one side. The driver crawled out of the cab unharmed.

PROLONGED DELAY IN PROSECUTIONS - TOLD COMMITTEE

Senator Gillette's testimony as to his separation from the department after the Savannah report was submitted.

The inquiry referred to, Seale said, was held at the Union station here in 1913, 1915, or 1920, and the entire commitment, valued at $50,000, disappeared.

A grand jury investigated it, he said, but found no ground for indictment.

"According to reports, some of this liquor went to the office."

Seale also charged that some liquor seized some years ago in Washington, but which disappeared from storage, resulting in a grand jury inquiry, went to the office of Senator Gillette.

The committee members discussed whether they should let this statement stand in the record and the witness deny it, or let him admit it as one of his informants and let the committee of justice witnesses could confirm his statement. He denied any personal knowledge of the transaction.

The witness indicated that some statement from Mr. Gillette on the subject was printed in the newspapers at the time.

A statement by Means.

Senator Wheeler switched the inquiry to the impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty.

Seale said that he assisted Representative Wheeler in his investigation, Michigan, in support of the impeachment charges and that Means, then a department of justice agent, "was ordered to shadow me." He identified a paper which Senator Wheeler showed him, and said that Means "told me he took this paper from Representative Daugherty."

Taking up the Wright-Martin aircraft case, Seale said the papers had been alternately sent to the New York district attorney, called back by Guy H. Clegg, formerly assistant attorney general, and turned over to special counsel.

"Transmission" blocked.

"We found in Ohio that Attorney General Daugherty had 500 shares of stock in this company in 1922," interrupted Chairman Brookhart, and 2,500 shares in 1921."

Seale declared the prosecution for recovery of "securities" and been blocked in the department of justice during 1921 and 1922 "surprisingly."

DEANS STATEMENTS ARE BRANDED FALSE BY PALMER

Atlantic City, N. J. — A Mitchell Palmer, former alien property custodian, branded false statements made by the testimony of Gaston H. Means before the Daugherty investigation committee.

"The wild tale of a plot on the part of Attorney General Daugherty to blackmail me into using influence with congress on his behalf is a tissue of falsehood from beginning to end," says the statement.

"To allow a witness like Means to repeat his unfounded charges, long since disproved, in well calculated to discredit the integrity of the present investigation and to justify the widespread criticism of the senate for becoming a mere distributor of slander and slanders of mud."

Presidental Improving — Nick Fendall, employee of the Power City Machine company, burned several days ago, when he served gasoline on a fire in a stove, is recovering in a hospital. It was reported Friday. He will be discharged within the next few days.

BUTTER, EGGS AND BANANAS CHEAPER

First Cantaloupes of Year Arrive, to Sell Around 20 Cent Mark.

Big price reductions in several fruits and vegetables, in addition to the drops last week, are noticeable this week, particularly on bananas, which have declined 3 to 5 cents within the past four or five days, and now sell for 10 cents pound in most markets, and up to 12 in others. They have been 12 1/2 to 15 cents. An over supply at shipping points and strong competition between big wholesalers is given as the cause. Prices will probably advance again soon, dealers state.

Strawberries sell for 20 to 25 cents pint. They have been up to 35 cents. Another 2 cent decrease in the price of butter was registered during the past week, making the cost about 5 cents less within the last 15 days. Present prices are from 29 to 41 cents, against 41 to 43 cents last week-end. Eggs for Easter are also slightly lower in some markets, selling for 19 to 21 cents.

Potatoes on Increase. Advances in both new and old potatoes have taken place during the past week, and the fall kind have reached 25 cents bush on a good grade, with other grades selling down to 25 cents. Quality in many cases is poor. New potatoes, which were 15 to 20 cents bush, are now selling for 12 cents. Idaho baking potatoes may also be obtained at about 10 cents a bush, though prices on them are variable.

Cantaloupes, the first seen here this season, arrived from Chicago Friday morning, and will be placed on sale Saturday. The city's demand is unusually low for the season, selling at about 20 cents each. They are from California. Among the other popular items this week are watercress, 2 bunches for 15 cents; fancy asparagus, 15 to 18 cents; green beans, 35 cents pound; new peas, 25 cents; chives, 15 cents; new parsnips, 15 cents; and parsley, 15 cents.

Other Vegetables Obtainable. The first of the new crop of Texas silver-skin onions are on sale at 12 cents pound. Other kinds are 5 cents.

Other green vegetables include head lettuce at 15 to 20 cents each, or 18 cents pound; cauliflower, 15 to 20 cents; radishes, 5 to 7 cents bunch; onions, 10 cents; cabbage, 7 cents pound; spinach, 15 cents; cucumbers, 25 cents each; tomatoes, 25 cents pound; carrots, 10 cents bunch. Celery, 12 1/2 to 15 cents; beets, 10 cents; and peppers, 7 cents.

Fresh pineapples remain the feature of the fruit trade this week, and continue to sell at 25 cents each. Many apples are still displayed, and dealers are recommending Baldwin, at 7 cents; and Winesaps at a pound for 25 cents. Other kinds which are of good quality are Spitzenberg, 2 for 25 cents; Ganos, 4 for 25 cents; Russets, Tallman Sweets and Spies, 7 to 8 cents.

Onion prices sell at 25 to 30 cents on medium to large sizes, and down to 17 cents for the slicing kind. Floridians are 35 to 45. Lemons and grapefruit are unchanged.

Easter Bake Sale and fancy articles, Home made food, under auspices of the Congregational church, Saturday April 19th at Putnam's Furniture Store, 8-10 S. Main St.

PIONEER MERCHANT DIES. Fond du Lac, Wis., W. H. Post, 82, pioneer real estate dealer and merchant of Fond du Lac, died here last night, after a brief illness. Two sons and two daughters survive.

CAR BODIES ARE DAMAGED IN FIRE
Chevrolet Employees Extinguish Blaze in Oven With Use of Chemicals.
Fourteen open car bodies were damaged in a fire discovered at 4:20 p. m. Friday. The fire was extinguished by employees with 80 gallons of chemical, with the damage confined to the bodies.
The fire was discovered by employees when they saw clouds of smoke coming from the north end of the body oven, which was not operating at the time. It is believed to have started from the intense heat in the oven. When in operation, the air is kept in circulation by a large fan, but this was not operating when the fire started.
The amount of damage has not been figured. Some of the cars will need only a new seat of paint, while some of the others will need repairs to the wooden frames.

In her inspections of children in the public schools, Miss Grace Amerpohl, school nurse, is finding an alarming number of cases of goiter and goitre tendencies. In one school, 66 out of 97 girls examined were found to have goitre, she reports. Miss Amerpohl has only two more schools to visit before she completes the examination of all grade school children of the city. These are St. Patrick's and St. Paul's parochial schools.

MANY EXPECTED IN KIWANIS EGG HUNT

Parade, Led by School Bands, Will Precede Easter Fete
in Park.

Several hundred Janesville grade school children will romp in court house park Saturday afternoon, delving into all its nooks and crannies in search for scores of Easter eggs which will have been hidden there by members of the Kiwanis club, under whose auspices the hunt is staged for the third consecutive year.

With the weatherman promising a fair day, although slightly cloudy, the attendance at the event is expected to eclipse all former records. Every childish heart which has looked forward to the day, it is hoped, will be made happy through finding an egg. The hunt is expected to be the highlight of the day for the children of a city of 10,000. The Kiwanis club this year has confined those who may participate to grade school children, and plans just twice the number of eggs that have been hidden in the past two years. Each one will entitle the finder to a new silver half dollar to be paid by the president and secretary of the Kiwanis club. One thousand eggs will be found hidden in the park.

Gather at City Hall.
All of the children participating will gather at the city hall on the Jackson street before 9 a. m., when the parade to the park is scheduled to start. Mothers of tiny children of kindergarten age may be assured they will be looked after by the Kiwanis. There will be no separate "hunt" this year for the smallest children.

The parade is expected to be a grand spectacle, giving Janesville an opportunity to view its finest product. It will be led and augmented by the four school bands, which will play for the march and will give a concert in concert in the park. The senior high school and girls' band will be in uniform and the junior high and grade school bands will also play. Capt. Ralph C. Jack will lead the bands.

"Zero" Hour is 2:30.
After the march to the park, the children will be lined up around the four sides of the park. At 2:30 p. m., with the fire whistle sounded as the signal for the "charade." The hunt will continue from then until every one of the eggs has been found.

All those desiring to participate in the egg hunt must qualify by marching in the parade. Members of the grade school band will be given an opportunity to hunt for eggs. Fred Ehringer, chairman of the committee on arrangements, announced Friday.

YOUNG JANESVILLE MAN STRUCK DEAD BY C. & N. W. TRAIN

partly identified by Coroner Whaley and this was later verified by the father, Charles D. Cain, 437 S. Jackson street, when called to the rooms.

Cain was employed as a machine operator at the Rock River Woolen Mills. His death is the second of the year in a similar accident. Ferdinand Rupnow, Janesville, having been killed a month ago on the Northwestern tracks running to Beloit. From the condition of the body and the number of wounds and cuts, it is possible more than one train passed over the body.

Coroner Whaley said Friday that no inquest would be held. A member of W. O. W.
Further investigation of the tragic death of the young man shows that he left his home on Western avenue shortly after six o'clock to walk up town. He didn't tell his wife so the exact time is not known. He was returning home, it is believed, when he was struck. Marks found showed he was dragged 600 feet from Galena towards Western avenue. Blood was found on the tank box of engine hauling train No. 1550 but whether this is the train which first struck Cain has not been determined.

Mr. Cain was a former counsel commander of the Janesville lodge of the Woodmen of the World, in which he had been an active member. He had been a resident of Janesville since 1904, coming here from Anigo, near which city he was born, Jan. 29, 1895.

He was an industrious worker and a fine young man as is attested to by his employers. Prior to last November he was employed by the Rock River Cotton company for several years. At one time he was employed by the St. Paul as a passenger brakeman.

Leaves Family of Five.
He married Agnes Schumacher of Janesville May 30, 1914 and four children were born, these being Della, Chester and Norma and Millicent. The widow and four children survive together with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cain; four brothers, L. E. Cain, C. L. Cain and N. L. Cain; Janesville, and A. F. Cain, Portage; and one sister, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Janesville.

Funeral services will be held at the home 1203 Western avenue, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday and at 3 p. m. at the Whaley parlors, the Rev. T. C. Thorson officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. Friends may view the body at the Whaley parlors Friday night.

TREASURE HUNT AT END OF THIS HIKE

A treasure hunt, with real treasures as the prizes will be the principal game at the first of the city-wide hikes to be conducted by the community secretary, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., Saturday. All boys over nine years of age may go, leaving the "Y" at 9:15 p. m. Among the prizes which will go to winners are the hunt are longcase bells, rule books, baseball gloves, athletic hose and pennants. The articles are to be hidden in advance by members of the Triangle club, who are spending the week-end north of town. Other games will include mass soccer and baseball games, and special stunts. As a fitting conclusion of the day, A. E. Bergman, community secretary, expects to have the boys back to the "Y" by 4 p. m. for a special swim. The school that has the largest representation among the hikes will be given an award. The hike is the first big outdoor event for all boys of the city planned by Mr. Bergman as a part of his community program for this summer, and it is hoped that a large number will participate.

Overlooking the Basis of New Peoples in America.

The great oversight in the arguments against the exclusion of peoples or the restrictions in immigration schedules from all nations, comes from a failure to look squarely upon the primary reason for permitting such immigration to America. Peoples seeking a home here are asked to forget their own national life and to accept ours. Insofar as they do this they are welcomed, and no farther. The answer to all argument for Japanese immigration is found in that specification. They do not accept our nation as theirs. The Johnson bill passed by the house, basing the quotas on the census of 1890, restricts the Southern and European immigration to a severe extent. The reason again is found in the foregoing specification since these people coming to the United States in masses have attempted to preserve their own national language, manners, customs and trend of thought. They do not wish to accept America's viewpoint. Hence the number of law violators in this class of immigrant and the failure of most of them to accept citizenship.

The outlook now is that the senate will accept the 1920 schedule and immigration will be reduced to 160,000 annually no longer as the law is operative. The most bitter opposition to this comes from Italy where the steamship companies report that 600,000 persons are ready to sail to America. Under the Johnson law only 4,689 may come here each year. The Polish schedule will be 8,372 and the Russian 1,892. Rumania, which made a protest against the drastic restriction on the native ground that the Rumanian immigrant sent some $200,000,000 of dollars home each year and that this would be seriously missed over there, will be cut down to 731 persons each year. The Rumanian is one of the lowest nations in the percentage schedule of those seeking American citizenship. The bill will permit only 135 Greeks to land in a year as immigrants.

The great work after this bill is passed, is to see that the foreign born here in America are taught citizenship and the language. We have more foreign daily newspapers in New York city, for instance, than there are printed in the language of America. These things ought to be given grave consideration.

With each electric light bill there should hereafter be presented one candle for emergency use.

Where Will Wisconsin Be as a Resort?

When all the shores of the thousand and one lakes in Wisconsin have been sold to private individuals and even the roads to the shores have been closed, where will we be with delirious goods after all the advertising of the beauties of Wisconsin scenery? Shores are being sold and cottages erected until we have few lakes accessible that are not enclosed as private property. It gets worse and worse every year. We advertise our lakes when all that we have is a view from a distance unless we violate the "No Trespass" prohibitions or use a balloon. There is no regulation, no law that will protect the people in this. We will be as badly off as Europe with its private estates, great scenic preserves, and the avenues closed to places of entertainment and pleasure provided by Nature. This may be the "Land of the Sky Blue Water," but it profits little if we cannot get near enough to the water to prove the statement.

The state makes great error in not preparing for this situation. Wisconsin ought to make good on the promises held out that here in this state is the place for the thousands who want a playground and the benediction that comes from outdoors.

It is time to think seriously about what will happen when we have no lakes along whose shores we may drive, or on whose waters we may float, without paying high tribute or being driven off by some person who has the right by ownership.

The common ancestor of the ape and man is said to have been discovered in Asia and is called the dryopithecus. If William Jennings Bryan is able to pronounce the name, he may be expected to deny the allegation.

The Call for American Goods.

In one week, the one just passed, 28 requests from consuls and foreign agents have been received by the national department of commerce for information about American goods. These come from 35 different countries and show the wide interest in American products. They also came from widely separated corners of the globe. Ireland wants to know about radio apparatus. China asks about electrical fans and other electrical devices, while German importers are represented by requests for automobiles and a dozen other kinds of American manufactured products. Syria wants to know about American picture films.

Our trade is expanding all the time. There is nothing political about it and it is not due to laws or statutes. The world realizes that America is the home of a thousand and one necessities in the modern civilized life and as one nation after another in the far off countries learn of these things they make inquiry.

Instead of using a charcoal stick to write barbaric proclamations, the breech-clouted chief now

DANCING AND THE CHURCH

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.

"Washington.—Dancing might appropriately be used as a form of Christian worship, but it would be unwise to introduce the dance into churches now because of the danger of sensationalism."

This is the opinion of a young Washington clergyman who knows enough about dancing to distinguish between jazz, ballet, and a rhythmic ritual.

This clergyman, the Rev. Maurice S. White, gave a benefit lecture on superstition and illustrated it not only with lantern slides but with dances by a group of young girls. The casting of the evil eye, a Breton initiation, and violin making were portrayed in dignified pantomime by the dancers who wore draperies that were certainly more modest than the average evening gown.

When he was asked if he would have given a dance lecture in his church, however, Mr. White shook his head.

"Congregations are not ready for that sort of thing in churches," he answered. "Dr. W. N. Guthrie of St. Mark's in the Bowery may be able to introduce a dance ritual into his services successfully. New York is a center of the theatrical world. There are thousands of artists of various kinds there to whom it would appeal strongly. A church there might do a good work in appealing to the senses from a high standard. Dr. Guthrie's experiment may result in other attempts to introduce dancing into the church, but progress along that line could only be made slowly."

The basis of modern antagonism toward religious dancing, he added, can be traced back beyond Puritanism, beyond the dawn of Christianity, back to the priests and philosophers of early civilizations. When men began to speculate regarding God, or regarding a group of gods, they found a need for expressing their longings, desires, and praise in ceremonial worship. The early thinkers believed that the gods were happy, and they tried to be like them. Dances, processions, drama, and music became important features of pagan religious ceremonies.

At times this self-expression became over-emphasized and the stately, joyous ritual became an orgy. Thus they developed a religion of taboos. The belief spread that the gods disapproved of over-indulgence and loss of self control. Those who were convicted of this went to another extreme. They became advocates of celibacy, asceticism, and renunciation of everything that was pleasing to the senses. Throughout history, men have wavered between these two extremes.

In the early days of Christianity, the churches saw value in the dance as a means of spiritual self-expression and as a means of adding to the beauty and impressiveness of a religious service. The front part of the church, known as the choir, was used for dance ritual, accompanied by singing. Historians say that early Christian fathers believed that the angels were continually dancing, singing, and playing musical instruments.

But Christianity came into conflict with Roman culture and the growing excesses of Rome. Mr. White points out that whenever two religions clash, one either succeeds or else it is rejected. Under Roman power, Christianity had either to accept or reject the materialistic Roman observances. It reacted violently against them and emphasized withdrawal from the world. By the fourth century, St. Augustine was telling his followers, "It is better to dig than to dance." And from that time the church has leaned more or less definitely toward asceticism.

Some of the arts have successfully survived the periods in which worshipers ignored or denounced the senses. When paintings, sculpture, and stained glass windows were declared to be works of the devil and were cast out of churches, many valuable specimens survived. Gradually, as the pendulum would swing from a reformation to a renaissance, the arts would slowly find a place again in religious observance.

In colonial America Puritans became a prominent and persisting influence. It is not so many years since the miked choirs and soloists were regarded as innovations in a church service. Conservative churches chose as soloists only young women of the congregation whose spiritual qualifications to take part in the service were unquestioned.

But others engaged professional singers, and this provoked grave questioning as to the fitness of such persons to take part in religious services. Was it right to have good music provided by a professional singer whose conduct might be far from faultless? Similar controversies have raged more recently when ministers began to introduce religious pageantry and drama into their parish halls and churches.

While other arts have found a way back into religious worship, the dance for centuries has faced almost insurmountable obstacles. A manuscript of a beautiful oratorio might survive an age of rigid asceticism, but once a dance is abandoned it is forgotten. Such traces as remain in written descriptions of dance steps, in a melody, in paintings, or in sculptured friezes of dancers, are too vague to bring the dance back to life—or at least to bring it back in a religious form.

But the main fact which has made dancing unacceptable to religion is its rating as the most physical and most primitive of the arts. During the centuries when the art of the dance was neglected, dancing came to stand for all manner of evil. Even since the revival of artistic dancing, the majority of people still associate dancing with sex and physical display.

The sensual appeal of the dance is undeniable, but it may not be more pronounced nor less desirable than the sensual appeal of other arts. Mr. White points out that the dance may be so nearly a pantomime that fancy steps and contortions have no place in it. In this form it is more nearly like the best ceremonial dances of early civilizations. Dignified Roman citizens who had thought it a disgrace to engage in social dancing took part in solemn religious dances.

Whatever the spiritual qualifications of the dancer, the fact remains that once it is denounced by a religious organization it has great difficulty in regaining approval. On the other hand, the religious dancer who dances after dark when it does manage to survive finds opposition. The peasants of a number of European countries still celebrate church festivals with symbolic dances on the green and processions to the church. Up to the eighteenth century religious dancing was still a part of services in some cathedrals of southern Europe, and today in Seville one ritual dance survives.

Whether the rhythmic ritual is a suitable form of Christian worship today is a debatable point. It is only fair to Dr. Guthrie and others who regard it suitable to point out that what they are sanctioning is far different from jazz or acrobatic dancing, and is even a long way from most of the artistic dancing of a ballet or circus school. But so long as the word dance stands for nothing but muscular expression to the popular imagination, so long will the idea of dancing in a church be sensational.

BALLAD OF MODERN LIFE.

Dinners and dances and plays to see,
 So do the swift nights pass away.
 A picture show with the children three,
 Tomorrow at auction house we play;
 How we come at the close of day,
 And out again at our topmost speed,
 And I look at my books on the shelf and say:
 "When does a fellow get time to read?"

The strain is as tense as a string can be,
 So wonder that our hair turns gray.
 "Tonight we go to Greens," says she,
 Always, it seems, there's a party gay.
 Though home is the place where I long to stay,
 What can you do when your good friends
 Book you to stand in a brave array—
 When does a fellow get time to read?

Time was life left us a little free,
 Adding more than our strength could pay.
 There were restful nights in the past when we Were never urged from the hearth to stray;
 But the soul now chafes in its weary clay,
 On dancers and dances it vainly feeds,
 And my books are only a vain display—
 When does a fellow get time to read?

Envoil.
 Writers of books, perhaps there may
 On your printed pages be truth I need,
 But with this so piled, will you tell me, pray,
 When does a fellow get time to read?

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1924.

All the planetary influences today, are most threatening, according to astrology. Mars, Saturn, the Sun, Venus and Jupiter are all in malefic aspect.

This appears to be one of the rarely unfortunate days in which it is well to safeguard health, wealth and mental powers.

Irritability may be apparent in even the best tempered persons and it is well to avoid personal contacts as far as possible.

Mars again gives warning of wars, riots and clashes between nations.

There is again a sinister sign that forecasts "rain" dimensions and serious difficulties.

Business prospects may appear most discouraging under this direction of the stars and it will be wise not to take any sort of initiative until a better role prevails.

Political aspirations are likely to receive much discouragement at this time when all the planetary influences tend toward personal jealousies and lack of loyalty to leaders.

Women who are ambitious to attain public office have rather a discouraging outlook at this time when all the signs appear to indicate sex antagonism.

Vanity which has taken such a strong hold on both men and women will be apparent in many ways during the coming weeks in which there will be increased laxity in the code of morals tolerated by society. It is prophesied that persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of a very strenuous year. They should be especially conservative in all business matters.

Children born on this day have the urgency of careers that are changeable and uncertain. These subjects of Aries have Taurus characteristics, as a rule, and are, by mass, headstrong and restless, but able to win success.

When a fellow gets grouchy,
 And it hurts him to smile,
 That fellow should work
 In the garden awhile.

You just simply can't commend the dandruff cures they recommend.

Pain and nausea after meals—
 That is what the victim feels;
 Then the X-Ray or, reveals
 An ulcer.

The mark of distinction: $.

Tired? Lie down and rest up.

To go beyond is as bad as to fall short.

One actor cannot make a play.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO.

April 18, 1884.—Janesville now has the senior and junior companies in the first regiment of Wisconsin National Guards. Captain J. B. La Grange, of the Janesville City Rifles, is the ranking captain of the regiment; and Captain J. B. Doe, Jr., of the Janesville Guards, is the junior captain of the regiment.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

April 18, 1894.—Six bricklayers are working on the 3rd M. C. A. building. Secretary Kline is after subscriptions, and money is needed. Hereafter three taps of the fire bell will mean, "Fire out." Instead of one tap as heretofore. George L. and Sarah H. Harrington have purchased the grocery store of F. L. Christians.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

April 18, 1904.—A report of public school work for the year has been issued, and shows that 46 teachers were employed, and the enrollment of the schools was 1,636. The average teacher's salary was $331.16, and the per capita cost of instruction, $10.92. The school has an enrollment of 152. Sixteen will graduate.

TEN YEARS AGO.

April 18, 1914.—Patrolman Peter Champion was appointed temporary head of the police department following the shooting of the resignation of English Ransom last night. An evening class in salesmanship will be conducted by the vocational school, starting next Tuesday, according to Superintendent Hill.

FINALLY, BIRTHDAYS.

Whatever things are true, whatever things are honest, whatever things are just, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.—Philippians 4:8.

Personal Health Service

 Noted Physician and Author.

ALUM IN THE MEDICINE CUPBOARD

A doctor book which I can unreservedly recommend to discriminating people informs the reader who has paid his two dollars for copy that alum is the simplest and cleanest, and most effective of all remedies for local use. By that, I understand, I mean no aspersion on other aspirin-like remedies which may be suggested in other doctor books. As an aspirin, alum is none too clean, at that, though I know of none cleaner which a layman can safely use.

The dangerous dirt, is the dirt which is invisible to the naked eye—the kind we see through the microscope.

(The little powdered alum may be shaken into the groove where an "in-growing nail" is seemingly cutting the flesh. It shrivels the raw, red flesh; mass—"proud flesh," granulation tissue which develops in the groove and prevents healing. When applying alum to stop oozing or bleeding from a cut or abrasion sprinkle a solution of the powder on a clean handkerchief or on a clean towel and dab it over the cut gently, or sprinkle the powder on the cut itself.

A solution of a teaspoonful of alum in a quart of water will make a weak, mildly astringent gargle, wash or douche.

Stronger solutions, one or two tablespoonfuls of alum in a pint of water may be moved on the skin to relieve excessive sweating, two or three times a week, allowing the solution to dry on the skin. This weaker solution (teaspoonful of alum to the quart of water) applied hot will often relieve intense itching (pruritus). The weaker solution is also a relief to the itching of chilblains if it may be sprayed in the nose to stop nose bleed, or a tampon of absorbent cotton moistened with it may be inserted in the nose.

Strong and speakers and alum use—ful to prevent hoarseness or huskiness of the voice. Dissolve two teaspoonfuls of alum in seven ounces of water and add two teaspoonfuls of honey of roses. Gargle once or twice with some of this shortly before singing or speaking. Honey of roses may be had at any rose factory or beehive. I have a still better gargle for singers and speakers. I'll be glad to mail it to anyone who will provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
 A Habit, Not a Symptom.
 A few weeks ago a grandmother told me she had been a victim of the constipation habit for 52 years, and I had her ship me a S. A. E. and run out and get a pound of flaxseed, and about a million—seems like that—people wonder why I don't write her something. I was willing to consider a complaint of constipation I couldn't logically decline to consider any other symptoms they might want to submit.

Answer—There is no answer coming to anybody who insists on writing his symptoms to me. I'm glad to give advice to people who are subject to the habit of constipation, but if they consider constipation just one of their assortment of symptoms, I can only suggest that they refer the matter to a physician.

Cancer Not Communicable.
 Is cancer of the stomach contagious? A patient has been operated on and has a foul discharge? (A. A.)
 Answer—Cancer is a known, cancer is not communicable. Ordinary soap and water cleanliness is ample protection against simple infection, or one caring for a patient with cancer.

Please give me a diet for high blood pressure. Have been to several doctors and they tell me I should not eat any food that is high in fat, weight 230, blood pressure 138 over 90 every day. (A. A.)

Answer—The first thing for you to do is to go to a good physician and let him see if he can find out what lets you. There is such a thing as high blood pressure, but it is not a disease which can be intelligently treated without your physician's advice. You are probably very intelligent—about food. So far as I know, there is no special diet for high blood pressure. Blood pressure should not, out fresh meat. Probably you should reduce your weight. That, involves cutting down on all kinds of food. Ask your doctor about it. But take my advice and don't imagine high blood pressure accounts for your condition. Find out what condition is causing the high blood pressure.

ASK US

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing the Gazette. Information will be given, Washington, D. C. This office applies strictly to information. The Bureau does not attempt to settle domestic quarrels, nor to undertake extensive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Give full name and address. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Is it true that the body of Emperor Frederick the Great was not embalmed? (N. D.)
 A. By the expressed wish of the emperor his body was not thus prepared for burial. Two regimental surgeons bathed the body and poured it in alcohol.

Q. Where is the Boston fish pier and how does it rank? (J. G. J.)
 A. The Boston Chamber of Commerce says that Boston is the most important fish port in the world and in production is exceeded only by Grimsby, England. It has one of the largest fish piers in the world built at a cost of $2,000,000. It is 52,000 square feet in area, with a capacity for the simultaneous discharge of 80 vessels. On and adjacent to it is the largest fish freezing, cold storage plant in the world with a capacity of 15,000,000 pounds, also making capacity of 230 tons daily and storage of 10,000. The Boston fish pier is located on North Avenue, Boston.

Q. Please state how many soldiers survivors of the Spanish-American war are now on the pension rolls. (J. T. D.)
 A. On June 30, 1923, there were about 67,000 soldier survivors of the Spanish-American war on the rolls of the pension office. However, there have been changes since that time as these rolls are being materially increased.

Q. Would it be possible to find trees which have been blazed for a trail after 50 years? (J. G. J.)
 A. The forest service says that blazed marks are discernable for several hundred years and if made deep enough will last as long as the trees on which they are being materially increased.

Q. What is an iconoclast? (N. M.)
 A. The word "iconoclast" is derived from a Greek word, "ikon," meaning an image or picture. Figuratively used, an iconoclast is a term applied to a person who breaks down established customs and beliefs.

Q. Give a list of the cities in the United States that have adopted the commission form of government. (E. E. H.)
 A. More than 300 cities of the United States have adopted the commission form of government. Notably Buffalo, N. Y.; New York; New Orleans; Jersey City; Portland, Ore.; St. Paul; Oakland; Memphis; Des Moines; and Galveston, Tex. Larger municipalities which have adopted the plan, only two—Denver and Salem—have abandoned it.

Q. How many negroes are in hotel news for the past year? (J. G. J.)
 A. There are estimated to be at the present time 50,000 negroes engaged in their own business and manufacturing, with a volume of business of $1,500,000,000.

The Four Stragglers

By FRANK L. PACKARD

Copyright, 1923, Geo. H. Doran Co. So realized by Lederer Syndicate.

CAPTAIN FRANCIS NEWCOMBE, ex-officer in the great war, who breaks into society, but who is really a shadowy figure, noted for his big deeds, and in charge of various big steals that have set London

PAUL CREMARE, noted French thief, who has met Newcombe in the backwaters of the war, along with

INNISBILLS, a valet, who had done some big thefts on his own account, and

THE FOURTH STRAGGLER, who hears the crooks agree to combine after the armistice, and who disappears.

POSSY WICKES, a flower-girl, whom Newcombe has adopted and sent to America to a finishing school, with the idea of insuring social contacts for the best before he leaves England, after executing some big hauls. She is the friend of DOUGLASS, daughter of an eccentric millionaire, and her guest on a big show place on the Florida Keys, where

MR. MARLIN, the mad magnate, has buried more than half a million dollars, the existence of which Newcombe learns inadvertently from his beautiful ward.

HOWARD LOCKE, son of a big business man, who takes Newcombe and Rummels to Florida on his steam yacht. He falls in love with Polly.

They had reached the seaward side of the island. Here a short dock was built out to meet a sort of sea-wall that gave protection to any craft that might be beached there—but the ship was empty of boats.

She looked up at him now, as she answered his observation.

"He was," she said slowly, "but all the boats were taken away."

"Poor Mr. Marlin!" She turned away abruptly, her eyes suddenly moist.

"Let's go inside."

They found a cozy corner in the little lounge room of which she had spoken, and seated themselves. Locke picked up the thread of their conversation.

"You're the kind of him, aren't you, Miss Wickes?" he said gently.

"Yes," she said simply.

"It's a very strange case," said Howard Locke.

"And a very very sad one," said Polly Wickes. "I don't know how much Dora—Miss Marlin—has said to you, or perhaps even Mr. Marlin himself, for he is sometimes just like—like anybody else, I don't."

"I hardly think it could be a case of trespassing on confidences in any event," Locke interrupted quietly. "His father well know outside of that, in what might be called the financial world, you know. What I can't understand, though, is that, having lost all his money, a place like this could still be kept up."

Polly Wickes shook her head thoughtfully.

"Guardy was speaking about 'the same thing,' she said, "but I don't think it costs so very much to keep you see, it is most in a way self-supporting—the vegetables, and fruit, and fuel and all that. And the servants all have their little houses, and have been on the island for years, and the wages are not very high, and anyway Dora has a fortune in her own name—from her mother, you know; and besides, thank goodness, dear old Mr. Marlin hasn't lost all his money anyway."

"Not lost it?" ejaculated Locke.

"Why, that was the cause of his mind breaking."

Polly Wickes looked up in confusion.

"Oh, perhaps, I shouldn't have said that," she said nervously. "But—after all, I don't see why I shouldn't, for you could not help but know about it before very long. Indeed, I shouldn't be a bit surprised if Mr. Marlin showed it to you himself, just as he has shown it to me. It seems to have taken a great fancy to you, he hardly let you out of his sight this morning."

"He knows of my father in a business way," said Locke. "I suppose that's it. Do you mean that he showed you a sum of money here on this island?"

"Yes," said Polly Wickes slowly, after I had been here a little while.

NURSE CHAPPELLE SAYS TANLAC BRINGS MOST GRATIFYING RESULTS

Nurse With 15 Years' Experience Urges Use of Tanlac—Tells of Her Mother's Experience With World's Famous Tonic.

"I have direct and personal knowledge of so many cases where TANLAC has restored health and strength and helped weak, run-down people to get on their feet that I know it to be an unusual medicine," is the emphatic manner in which Mrs. M. E. Chappelle, Blue Mount and Thomas Ave., Wauwatosa, Wis., a practical nurse of fifteen years' experience, pays tribute to the famous treatment.

"Time and again I have urged TANLAC's use and it always brings the most gratifying results. My own mother, now eighty years old, took TANLAC for her run-down condition and has been her steady ever since. Nothing helps her as TANLAC does and she is as strong as an advocate of the medicine as I am. Only recently, another became generally run-down. Her stomach was disordered, her appetite utterly failed, and she came near having a nervous breakdown. TANLAC, however, restored her appetite, corrected all complaints and left her not only well and happy but so strong and active that she looks after the home and visits around, as usual."

"And mother thinks the TANLAC Vegetable Pills are the greatest ever."

"In all my long years of experience as a nurse, I have never known the equal of TANLAC."

"TANLAC is for sale by all good druggists, or by mail, at $1.00 a bottle. Over 40 million bottles sold."

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

Answer to Mrs. E. S. R.:

I would write to the department of labor, children's bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose 15 cents and ask for the booklet on child care.

Naturally, I think you have a big problem before you, but since you are bringing a child into the world, I believe you should try to nurse it as long as possible and give it the best possible chance to get along.

Artificial feeding from an early age is a dangerous thing to do, and a doctor who can see the baby and the effect of his advice, certainly, is the only one competent to handle it. You would likely be a most successful nurse, small breasts mean nothing.

Mrs. W. M. O.:

Your letter has been answered, and I am sure by the time you receive this you will have had it.

Polly Wickes' small foot beat the floor in a sharp little tattoo. Locke straightened up with a start, in his fit of abstraction he had been gazing at the girl with abominable rancor.

"I forgot to say," said Polly Wickes severely, "that besides saying you were not a ladies' man, guardy old something else about you."

"Not surely not," Locke forced a mock decency into his voice. "What was it?"

Polly Wickes took a critical survey of the toe of her spotless white shoe.

"He said he didn't know whether I would like you or not."

Locke took a step forward from the fireplace.

"And you?" he demanded.

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

TEMPERAMENTAL AFFAIR

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please advise me what to do about a girl I have been going with for nearly two years.

We met along fairly until last summer when she said she was going to go with another boy, and so we broke our engagement. When I went down to see her she told me we had some together long enough and that she had quit her good. She said she didn't love me any more and wanted the other boy because his folks were well to do and I wasn't. So I left her and she has had a few of the things I had given her.

This lasted nearly a month and then she wrote me a letter, begging me to forgive her and take her back. I refused to write at first, but the letters came so often that I finally answered one. Since then we have been corresponding. She showed me a letter her sister wrote and said that she was foolish for quitting me.

She begs me to take her back and marry her and promises if I do she will never quit me again. She says she realizes now that I meant the world and all to her.

She is a good girl, and will make a mighty good wife as far as work is concerned, but I don't care about taking her back because I am afraid she will quit me again. She is good at making promises, but never keeps them. I have talked the matter over with my folks and they don't want me to take her back because there is a difference in our religion. I love her but don't like her religion. She claims that would make no difference to our happiness and insists on marrying me because she loves me.

She is a jealous, when she finds I have been going with other girls, she quit me once before this and we made up, but it was only a few months after which she quit me again. She claims she loves me but I don't believe it. Do you think I ought to forgive her and take her back under the circumstances? WILLIE HILL.

I don't believe it would be possible for you and the girl to find happiness with each other. Her actions would not indicate that she loved you very deeply, and your attitude toward her is not one of love. In considering a wife there is more to be considered than whether she will be a good worker. Married life is a thing of give as well as take. Unless you love her so much that you are ready to forgive little things and want a woman for her companionship and not the amount of work she can do, I doubt if you will find happiness. I realize there is a practical side to this, and it is certainly a blessing when a man who appreciates what she does but tries to save her in every way possible. As your parents say, the question of religion is grave, and it is another obstacle to your marriage.

Too Young

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl 17 and will be a graduate this year from common school. My father and mother are not like they should be to me and they let the other three children have their way.

She begs me to take her back and marry her and promises if I do she will never quit me again. She says she realizes now that I meant the world and all to her.

He is going away from this state and wants me to go with him. I have gone with him steady for ten months and he has not gone with any other girl.

I can keep house and do the things a wife should. Would you advise me to go with him or wait until he is married?

My dear girl, you are several years too young to become engaged. Tell the boy to wait a year at least before he has your answer.

TODAY'S RECIPES

The Easter breakfast table may be trimmed with spring flowers if snowdrops alone are to be present, but the youngsters would appreciate the cheerful and bright colors that they associate with this day.

A pretty table decoration is a small round mirror adorned with paper grass, with tiny dukes swimming about the cheerful and bright colors that they associate with this day.

On the table of colored eggs may be the centerpiece.

If you use confetti as suggested for the cereal why not arrange them in the individual cereal dishes in the form of a nest with candy eggs in the center? The eggs are to be removed before the cereal is eaten, of course, but the cereal so arranged would add to the attractiveness of the

HOLLOW SHOULDERS

The boat shaped neck line of last year which will continue in fashion for at least one more year is very hard upon the girl with hollow shoulders. It shows all her bad points and none of her good ones, and I would advise her not to adopt it. She will find those dresses cut to a V shape or a U shape in front the most becoming, for even though her chest may be as bony as her shoulders, the particular lines of these two styles will hide the fact. The U shape is now and more original than the V, more appropriate to evening dresses where she will want the effect at least decollete.

However, she will not be content with hollow shoulders, so here are some suggestions which should give even the thinnest girl prettier lines. If the shoulders are not very hollow rub them at night with a good quality nourishing cold cream. If they are very bad, rub them instead with cocoa butter.

Now cocoa butter by itself is an extremely difficult thing to massage, beginning at the base of the throat, using the thumb and forefinger, and massage with a rotary motion working upward from throat to tip of the chin. If the condition is caused through sucking of the facial muscles, use an astringent for the face and throat, and massage with cream. In a case where the extra lard comes from too much flesh, omit the cream and astringent. In any case, always and the treatment by an ice rub or by dashing very cold water over the skin.

A girl of 18, height 5 feet 5 inches, should weigh about 120 pounds.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1916 I had typhoid fever, since then severe stomach and liver trouble, never no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at People's Drug Company and druggists everywhere.

Creeping Along For Five Years

Two Tubes of Joint-Ease Now Walks Anywhere

Cannot Praise Great Joint Remedy Too Highly, Says W. J. ROY

Read his grateful letter and then you can think of any reason why you shouldn't use Joint-Ease for stiff, swollen, inflamed or creaky, sore joints you must be a pessimist.

Gentlemen: I am sure glad to say to the Public I have not been able to get around only to shut creep along for five years, until I got hold of Joint-Ease and I now can just walk where I please. I had the Flu and it fell in my legs. My knees were swollen and my legs all the time. Now the pain has all left my legs and the swollen legs are normal and I cannot recommend Joint-Ease too highly. I have just used two tubes of Joint-Ease only and will not be without it at all times.

Truly yours, W. J. Roy, Morgantown, W. Va., Feb. 26, 1924.

A tube costs but 40 cents at any druggist, anywhere.

Always remember when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—Quick.

Delinquent Taxes Are Less Than in 1922-23, Says County Treasurer

A statement prepared by County Treasurer Arthur M. Church shows that the delinquent taxes for 1922-23 were less than for the last tax period. The state tax collected for Rock county totals $100,000.00, with county tax, $117,073.10, and the total delinquent tax reported at $23,125.29, a total of $699,181.23, about $7,000 less than the last tax period. Sur taxes take an appreciable sum as is indicated by the $17,319.60, the amount due the state on the normal income tax, the educational sur tax, $34,683.01, the soldier bonus sur tax, $11,073.10, and the tax for the teachers' retirement fund of $42,000.00, a total of $99,075.71.

Janesville Paving Bids Set New Low Figure

fall, this increase more than offsetting the lower paying bid.

Three reasons are assigned for the low bidding on the big Janesville job, as follows:

1.—The size of the job, 165,000 square yards, said to be the largest single letting in the state this year, enabled contractors to pare their bids to the lowest possible point.

2.—Road contractors are said to be anxious for work, particularly so early in the season and the business situation is such as to favor street paving at this time.

3.—The Janesville Sand & Gravel company's offer of torpedo sand and gravel at 40 to 60 cents a ton, as made public at a council meeting last month ago, was taken advantage of by the contractors. Because of this, the bids were 14 to 51 cents a yard lower, as shown by the figures of those who bid on proposed "A," which did not take in the gravel company's preferential offer, and proposed "B," which was subject to those terms. All the "B" bids were lower than the "A" bids of the same contractor. The Birdsell company said it if it were not for this guarantee made public by President J. K. Jensen, its bid would have had to be 14 cents a yard higher. With other contractors this difference was even greater.

The Birdsell Bid

The Birdsell company's bid, the lowest of 20 submitted by 15 contractors, is figured as follows:

Excavation, 52,600 cubic yards at $4.75	$2,491.25
Reinforced one course concrete paving, 165,000 square yards, at $1.85	$305,250.00
One course concrete paving, 1,020 square yards, at $1.77	1,805.40
Curbs and gutters, 21,544.90
Special gutter flag, 1,600 linear ft. at $4.00	6,400.00
Sidewalks, 250 square yards, at $1.50	375.00
	$274,226.65

All contractors submitted a bid for integral curb as a substitute for regular curb and gutter. The Birdsell bid for this was 40 cents a foot and that of the Northern States Construction company, 72 cents. Substituting this figure for that of the regular curb and gutter, the Birdsell company would thus be $902 higher than the St. Paul firm on the total bid, but the integral curb is not being considered.

$9,400 in Track Paving

Besides bidding on the above specifications, every contractor was required to submit a bid for 1,100 cubic yards of railway excavation, 240 cu. yds. of railway extra concrete, 934 square yards of street railway pavement, and 669 square yards of steam railway pavement. The cost of this work, to be borne largely by the companies, amounts to an additional $9,420.50 in the Birdsell bid, making the total paving job, $383,727.15.

The Birdsell bid on railway excavation was $1 per cubic yard; railway extra concrete, $12 per cubic yard; street railway pavement, $2.25 per square yard; steam railway pavement, $3.25 per square yard.

Large Attendance at Letting

When the committee of public works, composed of President J. K. Jensen, Councilman C. Starr Atwood and Councilman Bernard M. Palmer, came to order at 2 o'clock, the council chamber was filled with contractors, material men and others interested in the city's big paving project. Many contractors who were present did not submit bids.

It was probably the largest turnout in the history of the city at any letting of a paving job or any other kind of public work.

City officials present at the opening were Councilman George A. Jacobs, Councilman William McGee, City Manager Henry Traxler, City Engineer C. W. Korch, City Attorney H. W. Ryan, G. Cunningham and City Clerk-Treasurer A. J. Olson.

From the large number of contractors seen around the hotel prior to the meeting, one might have been led to believe there was a convention in progress. The Janesville job attracted attention throughout the state, and bidders from 13 states being recorded.

On the face of the early report of bids, it appeared that the St. Paul contracting firm was the lowest and earlier editions of the Gazette carried such information, but a leason of figures a few minutes later revealed that the Birdsell company was lowest.

Contractors Thanked

After all the bids had been opened, President Jensen thanked the contractors for the interest they had taken in the Janesville work and urged them to "come again."

The committee of public works then retired to the city manager's office where conferences were held with representatives of both the low bidders. A further investigation will be conducted before a final recommendation is made to the city council.

Mr. Birdsell gave assurance that, if given the contract, he would start work at once and indicated that he would start lining up his equipment Friday for early shipment to Janesville.

Start Laying Laterals

Following the committee session, City Manager Traxler issued a statement in which he urged the people on streets to be paved to arrange for the laying of sewer and water laterals at once.

"Those who elect to put in their own sewer and water laterals from the main to the curb line may do so," he said. "Where the people fail to do it themselves, it will be done by the city and charged to them."

Mr. Traxler said that many people are under the impression they are to be required to replace sewer laterals, already laid, with iron pipe. "This is a mistaken idea," he said. "While the city recommends that this be done, it does not require it. However, the city does require that all iron water laterals be replaced with lead service pipe. There are many of these iron services between the main and the curb that must be taken out and lead pipe substituted, he asserted."

A list of the 13 contractors who submitted bids, a record of which appears in another column, follows: R. R. Birdsell & Sons Co., Racine; Northern States Construction company, St. Paul, Minn.; George (Weiler) Belsor, A. Larson & Co., new Iliac, Ill.; Hayes Bros., Janesville; P. W. Ryan & Sons, Janesville; Whitewater Bridge Co., Whitewater; Gund-Graham Co., Freeport, Ill.; Nickel-Grath Co., Waukegan, Ill.; Milwaukee Const. Co., Milwaukee; Milwaukee Const. Co., Milwaukee; McLaughlin & Sons, Chicago; McLaughlin & Sons, Chicago; P. W. Ryan & Sons, Janesville; Kroenig Const. Co., Chicago; John O'Gara, Chicago; John O'Gara, Chicago.

PALMER NAMED TO IMPORTANT POST

Following his re-election as president of the city council for another year, Councilman J. K. Jensen has re-appointed Councilman C. Starr Atwood to the committee of public works and has named Councilman Bernard M. Palmer as the third member of the body to succeed A. J. Gibbons, former councilman. The president of the council is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Jensen is expected to announce other appointments within the next few weeks, as terms of several members of the library board and city planning commission expire this spring.

The committee of public works is considered one of the most important boards in the city and requires a great amount of time of its three members. It is particularly important this year in view of the big paving program and other public works completed. It will be the duty of the committee to supervise the paving and make recommendations for payment of the contractor as soon as each street is paved and accepted.

Councilman Palmer attended his first meeting as a member of the committee when bids for the paving were opened Thursday afternoon.

Good Friday Is Observed with Many Services

Observance of Good Friday, which practically marks the end of the Lenten season, was in progress in most of the churches of the city today. The Episcopal church had services in the morning, as did the two Catholic and St. John's Lutheran churches.

Three hours devotion, in commemoration of the death of Christ, was held at Trinity church from 12 to 3 p. m., with the way of the cross said at both Catholic churches during the afternoon.

Services will be held Friday night at First Lutheran, Presbyterian, Methodist, St. Peter's, St. John's, Trinity, St. Patrick's and St. Mary's churches, some of them to have special sermons appropriate to the day. Veneration of the cross, an ancient custom in Catholic churches, was observed at the services. Friday. The cross is unveiled and placed at the front of the altar that all may kiss the feet of Christ. The morning service in the Catholic churches today was not really a mass, since the host blessed Thursday is on the altar of repose. During the priest's communion the host is brought to the main altar, incensed and mixed with wine.

Hundreds attended the adoration services Thursday at the Catholic churches, special hours being set aside for the various societies, at which time the rosary and litanies were recited.

The Rev. Keller Rubrecht, Minneapolis, will conduct the services at St. Peter's church at 8 p. m. Friday, and the Rev. John Zeller, Oconomowoc, will preach the sermon, "Christ Crucified," at St. Mary's.

Hot cross buns were distributed by the bakeries today as has been customary for years on Good Friday.

Wilkes, Mortgagor of Car, Dismissed

It. Wilkes, arrested in Belvidere, Ill., for taking a mortgaged car out of the state, has been discharged from custody here following a settlement effected with the mortgagee, the R. W. Motor Sales company. He paid the court costs, amounting to $14.50, and the case was dismissed upon the recommendation of Dist. Atty. S. G. Dunwiddie.

MOTOR TRUCKS HIT NEAR POST OFFICE

Motor trucks owned by the Yellow Cab company and the Blank & Berger car company, collided at the intersection of South Franklin and Dodge streets, at 6 p. m., Thursday, doing considerable damage to the latter. Only the fender on the Yellow Cab truck were damaged. The Blank & Berger car had just been purchased.

POLICE TO COLLECT DELINQUENT TAXES

Police will start out within the next few days to collect some $1,000 in delinquent personal property taxes, the city manager announced Friday. A 10 per cent penalty has been added to all these back bills and unless they are paid, property will be seized and sold at public sale, he declared.

PAY TRIBUTE AT WASHINGTON TOMB

(By Associated Press)

Washington — A memorial service with tributes to deceased general officers, a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon and the playing of wreaths on the sarcophagi of George and Martha Washington, further balloting for honorary vice presidents general and evening devoted to Pan-American relations comprised the activities today of the delegates to the 33rd continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The principal business activities of the annual congress having been disposed of in the first four days of the week's sessions, all the delegates felt free to make the trip to the Virginia home of Washington for the impressive ceremonies that had been arranged.

Dr. J. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American union, was invited to preside at tonight's session which will be addressed by Ambassador Pueyredon of Argentina, Minister Sanchez Latour of Guatemala and Minister Alfaro of Panama.

Eight active vice presidents-general and a chaplain general were elected on the ballots cast yesterday and announced last night, but none of the candidates for honorary vice president general received the required two-thirds majority, so this office remained to be filled through another vote today. These were the only offices vacant this year.

Where All 'Get Together'

PERHAPS you bought your car because you "asked the man who owned one".

Again, you may rest at ease in "the most beautiful car in America", or spin along and "spend the difference". From four cylinders to twin-sixes, you'll find many good buys in every price-class. Each may claim superiority—but they all "get-together" when it comes to deciding upon the best motor fuels.

Watch them line up for Super Gas and Champco Oil—and fill to capacity. For every motor, it provides speed in the get-away, power in the pull and a big measure of extra mileage. For every engine, it assures perfect lubrication, longer life and lower cost. It tells in the long run—and in the short run too for that matter.

Fill up with power every time. Your car may be powerful but make it power-full. You'll appreciate Super Gas and Champco Oil at every turn.

MILLION VOTED TO DIVERSIFY FARMS

Minneapolis—One million dollars was offered as an incentive to diversify farming in the northwest.

Directors of the Agricultural Credit corporation, at the request of President Coolidge, voted that sum as a "bonus" in the program to promote new crops where once only wheat grew.

"The day of the one-crop farmer is past," said C. T. Jaffray, chairman of the credit corporation. "We are starting with a million dollars, and we want to see how it will work out before we make other plans."

Heavy cattle, beef cattle, swine and sheep will be purchased by farmers who will benefit from loans of the credit board. Others will turn to forage crops and produce. Many who know nothing but grain will continue to grow grain, but they will have some other crop to fall back on in the event of wheat crop failure.

Most of the new farm relief program have not been determined upon, but the allocation of the money credit made available recently will be decided in a few days. Presidents of agricultural colleges of the spring wheat growing states will be called to a conference to aid directors of the corporation in allocating the funds.

POSTAL PAY BOOST IS BETWEEN FIRES

Everybody for Postman but Nobody Wants to Pay Salary Increase.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924, by the Janesville Gazette. Special Correspondence to the Janesville Gazette.

Washington—Everybody is for the postman yet nobody wants to pay the increase in his salary. This sums up the situation that has arisen with reference to the $100,000,000 appropriation proposed in the Edge-Kelly bill and the $12,000,000 appropriation substituted as a substitute by Postmaster General Harry S. New.

postmen. Farmers' organizations express a friendly interest in the welfare of the postman. But all these organizations are opposing the increase in his salary out of which the increases in pay are to be made.

The American Farm Bureau federation calls the Edge-Kelly bill, with its $12,000,000 appropriation simply "political pay" designed to build up the republican administration's instrumentalities for vote getting next election. For despite the strict rules with respect to the participation of federal employees in politics, the fact that postmen go from house to house and have a number of friends on their route is counted as a political asset of no small value.

The position of the Farm Bureau, however, is that the increases in pay should not be taken out of the parcel post rates. Mr. New has already announced that his plan includes a $12,000,000 expenditure for salary increases out of which the parcel post shall pay $20,000,000 in increased rates. The remainder is to be raised by increases in second, third and fourth class postage. There is no intention of raising the first class postage rates.

The announcement that second, third and fourth class rates are to be tampered with has aroused the various publishers' organizations, who have begun to fight the measure.
The Farm Bureau points out that $20,000,000 was appropriated recently to investigate the whole question of a scientific adjustment of postal rates and that to legislate in advance of scientific findings is simply to confess a waste of a half million dollars. But the inquiry probably would not be concluded in time to make the postal salaries higher this year and this is

REROUTING OF 26 RAISES TEMPEST

Milton and Junction Stage Controversy; Hearing by Commissioners, Tuesday.

Relocation of Highway 26 through Milton in its route between Port Atkinson and Janesville, and taking it away from Milton Junction has developed a real controversy between the two communities, which may cause the county board as much trouble as Highway 26.

Since the special legislative committee making additional mileage for state highways relocated the route through Milton instead of Milton Junction, the latter place has declared in protest a petition which was sent to the state highway commission with 700 names attached. In a letter received by Supervisor John Paul, it is stated the commission has decided to grant a hearing and the date will be fixed in the near future. In the meantime, those favoring the present location through Milton are signing another petition protesting against any contemplated action to send the highway back through Milton Junction.
The county board will become the stomach center of the two factions if the highway commission decides in favor of Milton Junction, as it cannot re-route more than five miles without the approval of the county board. It would then be up to the county board as to which of the two communities has the state highway.

JANESVILLE AT UTILITY MEETING

Janesville is represented by four persons at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Utilities association, which opened Thursday at Milwaukee and continues through Friday.
Of the New Gas Light company force, three are attending, these being J. J. Wortendyke, general manager, who is accompanied by his wife, and Miss Alice Bates and Anna Thompson. J. J. Wortendyke, general manager of the Janesville Electric company, is the fourth in attendance.

REGONSA FREE OF ICE
Janesville residents owning cottages on Lake Kegonsa will be interested in knowing that the Dane county lake is now practically free from ice. The ice which has been from 10 to 20 inches has gone out of the lake over against Sugar Bush and the outlet.

DOUBT MURDER STORY.
Rome.—Reports that two men of the J. I. Morgan yacht party were murdered at Tirane, Albania, were not confirmed and the Albanian minister at Rome believed them untrue.

Janesville Men Back from Inquest

Coroner Lynn Whaley and Val
Weber returned to Janesville Wednesday night after testifying before the Winnebago county grand jury at Rockford in its investigation of whether C. W. McCurley of Chicago speed cop is criminally liable in the death of Stanley Syvickis. The result will not be known until the accession is concluded.

Coroner Whaley was questioned concerning the inquest at which a jury recommended grand jury action against McCurley whose negligence it held had caused the death of Syvickis in a motorcycle accident.

It is understood Val Weber gave testimony similar to that given at the inquest concerning McCurley's actions at the time of the accident and the manner in which he was driving when his vehicle tipped over near Rockton, March 17.

KNUDSEN ON BOARD
Winnington, Del.—At the annual meeting of stockholders of General Motors corporation, held here, W. S.
Knudsen, general manager of Chrysler, was added to the board and present directors were elected for the ensuing year. By-laws were changed to make date of annual meeting Wednesday preceding the second Thursday in May.

Finish Tournament — Finals in several events in the Y. M. C. A. boys' department were expected to be played Thursday night, and the activities for this season concluded.
The contests started last Friday.

SABATINI, LONG A RESIDENT OF ENGLAND

Jesi, a diminutive city of the Italian Marches, was the birthplace of Rafael Sabatini, author of "Mistress Widdow" and here he spent his early youth. At Jesi there are medieval walls, and a small plaza, with its ancient cathedral and crumbling palaces, which once echoed to the armor of knights and the iron music of their horses' hoofs, still, to the imaginative ear, vibrate with the past. The city is glamorous with these centuries he makes live again in his novels, with all their violence and beauty.

If, from the first, history and legend had not thus been a vivid and visible thing to the child, it is doubtful if the man could have recreated the past with such fascinating reality. He was educated in Switzerland and Portugal, and never attended an English school, receiving his practical knowledge of the English language from his mother, an Englishwoman. He himself married a Lancashire lady, and for some years has been a British subject, living in London. His latest story, "Mistress Widdow," begins in the Gazette tomorrow, Saturday, April 13.

Blue-J Out — On account of Easter vacation starting Friday, the high school weekly, "Blue-J" was issued Thursday noon.

W. C. T. U. DIRECTORS TO MEET APRIL 23

Mid-Year Session Will Take Place in Viroqua, Says Announcement.

Viroqua—The mid-year meeting of the board of directors, Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Wisconsin, will be held here April 23 and 24, according to announcement by state officers. The board includes 75 leading W. C. T. U. workers of the state. General problems of prohibition enforcement in the state and particularly the work of the W. C.
T. U. in assisting in enforcement work will be considered.

Recommendations to the state association by officers will be presented at the opening session, Wednesday, April 23. Mrs. Mary Scott Johnson, state president, will preside.
General work of the body for the coming year will be discussed at the opening session also.

The annual banquet will be held Wednesday night. Speakers will include: A. E. Smith, Viroqua District leader.

WILL, RIGHT REDUCTION
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boston.—The emergency board of the United Textile Workers of America voted to instruct all affiliated unions to "fight if any attempt is made to reduce wages or lengthen working hours."

Stop the children's coughs at once!

DON'T let them run on until dangerous complications set in. Nothing so quickly stops coughing as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. It combines just the medicines your doctor prescribes with the old-time remedy, pine-tar honey. Hard-packed phlegm loosens and clears away—normal inflammation is reduced—normal breathing is restored. Excellent for young and old, alike! It tastes good, too. Keep Dr. Bell's on hand for all the family.

All druggists. Be sure to get the genuine.
